

Ms Phone

Ursula Nafula
English

She is called Ms Phone.
Look at her!

She has five cellphones.

When she wakes up, she arranges her cellphones on the table.

The yellow one is for communicating with family.

The white one is for communicating with people at work.

The red one is for communicating with those who owe her something.

The pink one is for communicating with her best friends.

The purple one is for communicating with people who need her help.

Ms Phone likes people to be happy. She does not like fighting.

She lets the children watch television at her shop.

She visits the sick and the elderly in their homes.

When she passes, there are shouts of “Ms Phone! Ms Phone!”

Then she feels happy and says, "I am Ms Phone. Here, look at my phones!"

That is Ms Phone and her five cellphones.

Ms Phone

Writer: Ursula Nafula

Illustration: Marion Drew

Translated By: Ursula Nafula

Language: English

© African Storybook Initiative, 2015

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution
(CC-BY 4.0) Version 4.0 International Licence

Disclaimer: You are free to download, copy, translate or adapt this story and use the illustrations as long as you attribute or credit the original author/s and illustrator/s.

Saide
South African Institute for Distance Education

www.africanstorybook.org
A Saide Initiative