

Rooster and Hare

Geoffrey Thiiru
English

Once upon a time, there was a rooster and a hare.

They were very good friends.

One night, Hare visited Rooster and his family at home.

They enjoyed supper together.

Then came the time to go to bed.

Hare saw that as Rooster and his family slept, their heads were hidden.

Hare saw that Rooster and his family slept very well.

He was not able to sleep the whole night.

In the morning, Hare wanted to know Rooster's secret.

"Where do you put your heads at night?" he asked.

Rooster decided to play a joke on Hare.

He said, "My friend, we birds have a secret for going to sleep. At bedtime, we chop off our heads. Without heads, we sleep very well."

“Then in the morning, we put our heads back on,” explained Rooster.

Hare went home and told his family the secret of the chickens.

The Hare family decided to try it themselves!

What do you think happened?

Rooster and Hare

Writer: Geoffrey Thiiru

Illustration: Duane Arthur

Language: English

© African Storybook Initiative, 2015

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution
(CC-BY 4.0) Version 4.0 International Licence

Disclaimer: You are free to download, copy, translate or adapt this story and use the illustrations as long as you attribute or credit the original author/s and illustrator/s.

Saide
South African Institute for Distance Education

www.africanstorybook.org
A Saide Initiative